Baratang Miya, Founder and CEO, GirlHype
South Africa

“Women in tech are the future, because for the tech industry to continue to grow and thrive, we need diverse teams with the perspective of all that it serves to be innovative and use technology to solve the 21st century challenges.”
The G20 initiative #eSkills4Girls aims to increase the participation of girls and women in the digital economy by improving their digital skills and employment perspectives. Find out more on eSkills4Girls.org